HEADQUARTERS KENTUCKY VOLUNTEERS. ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE. Frankfort, Oct. 29, 1865.

The attention of all soldiers, and heirs of de-censed soldiers, who have claims against the Gov-rrnment, is respectfully invited to the following neuropathy.

The Legislature of Kentucky has generously made appropriations to supply Agents to attend to the claims of our soldiers without expense to them: and all soldiers, discharged or otherwise, and the legal heirs of deceased soldiers, will consult their own interest materially by employing these Agents, who will promptly adjust their claims with the Government.

who will proimfuly adjust their claims with the Government.

Col. Chas. D. Pennebaker, Military Agent of Kentucky, residing at Washington City, will promptly present and realize all claims of Kentucky soldiers free of charge. He is prepared to furnish blank forms of all descriptions upon application, and will cheerfully give information as to the proper manner of making out accounts. By applying to him the soldier will save both time and money; for his office being at Washington City, he is daily in communication with the Disbursing and Auditing Departments, which enables him at once to remedy any deficiency that may arise in their claims. Local Claim Agents, of course, expect compensation for their time and labor, and the soldier, by employing a remote medium of communication with the Departments at Washington, necessarily attended with delay.

The State has also employed Local Agents at ments at Washington, necessarily attended with delay.

The State has also employed Local Agents at Louisville, Ky., Col. John W. Gault and Col W. De B. Morrill, who will cheerfully render information and assistance to soldiers having claims due them by the Government, free of charge.

The U.S. Sanitary Commission, which has been the constant friend of the soldier throughout the rebellion, has established a Claim Agency at Washington, with Local Agents through the different States, and they earnestly invite all soldiers to confide to their Agents the collection and settlement of their accounts free of charge. A list of their Agents in Kentucky is hereunto attached, and soldiers in their vicinity are requested to call on them for information, viz:

E. F. Kinnard, Bowling Green, Ky.

John Mason Brown, Frankfort, Ky.

H. H. Burkholder, Louisville, Ky.

The soldier is thus furnished with good and reliable Agents to enable them to husband the means due them by the Government, and they are earnestly solicited to employ them without charge.

It has been spoken of to me privately by many. My rule of action in regard to office is very plain. In the first place, I ask myself, is this right or wrong? and when I am perfectly satisfied that it is right, all the offices in the world cannot tend to the wishes of the people expressed through the representatives, and the representatives are represented by the representatives and the representatives are represented by the representatives and the representatives are represented by the representatives and the representatives are represented by the representative and the representative are represented by the re majority in both Houses of the General Asmajority in both Houses of the General Asmajority in both Houses of the General Asmajority in both Houses of the General Asbe the work of my friends, not of myself, and if

He has sought to discharge his high duties not in compliance with the promptings of partisans and not to subscript the temporary interests of a party—and serve the temporary interests of a party—and we honor him for it. His action must close we nonor him for it. His action must close the mouths of those of the Radical press and party who have maliciously accused this Legislature of treasonable designs in its repealing measures intended to heal the yet gaping wounds of the late civil war, and to bring us back to the constitution. Governor Bramlette has affixed his name to these measures, and he will have cause, outside of the self-approvhe will have cause, outside of the self-approving sense of duty faithfully performed, to conthe liberties of the American citizen, and to degratulate himself for it. J. W. Pruett, Sergeant at Arms of the Senate, at home.

One word in regard to the charge of our opponents, that we will resist the Government if the amendment is passed by the requisite number of States. It is a sufficient answer to this that, though we have been despoiled of one hundred millions of property by arbitrary acts and unlawful. millions of property by arbitrary acts and unlawfu etly obeyed. If we appeal, it will be, not to the and unconstit sword, but to the sober second thought of the American people, not to preserve slavery, but to preserve our and their liberty.

The States who have been in rebellion have abolished slavery, ignored the rebel debt, taken the amuesty oath, and have declared their intention, in good faith, to obey the laws. Where, I demand, is the constitutional power of the President to demand any more, if as much? They are willing to do that much; why demand more, and especially when that demand is beyond his powers, and is a clear violation of the Constitution? As good citizens, violation of the Constitution? Was it the intention of the framers of the Constitution that constitutional amendments should be passed by force or threats? If so, the President has the wight to force or insist upon the States who have right to force or insist upon the States who have been in rebellion to accept the constitutional amendment; if not, he transcends his powers. The Southern States have abolished slavery; why the necessity of the constitutional amenda it is not to give the Radicals improper power through the second clause? DECEMBER SESSION, 1865. Kentucky believe otherwise, when at the late election they saw armed soldiers stationed at nearly every poll to interfere by force against those who were opposed to the Constitutional amendment, in direct violation of a law of Congress and Mr. Lincoln's proclamation declaring martial law over the State. Even if I had been in favor of the amendment before, these startling outrages, and the sight of men accepting a position in Congress who only obtained 5,700 voters out of 19,000 legal voters, would sufficiently open my mind, so as to set my face like flint against the proposed amendment. If the powers that be will enforce the amendment at the point of the bayonet, will they not with the bayonet enforce just what meaning they may choose to give to the second clause? Thank God! Kentucky proved true to herself, in defiance of rebel bayonets. She refused to aid in breaking up the Union, in defiance of Federal bayonets unworthily used. She has refused to aid in consolidating the Government and destroying the Constitution of our fathers.

Noble sops of noble sires, ours has not been a law for constitution at nearly every poll to interfere by force against A. S. Allan. J. M. Harlan's.

President issue a general amnesty to Jeff. Davis down, thereby showing the magnanimity and greatness of a great nation, who, in the plenitude of power, could afford to be generous, and had called upon the people to resume their proper functions, and elect their Governors, Congressmen, &c. To-day we would be at peace, and the Government in full working order from Maine to the Rio Grande—a true republican government, sustained by the love and consent of all, not by force. A pardon to all would have exhibited a magnanimity and power that would have astonished and thrilled the world. More, it would have taken the opposing force, and consolidated it into a bulwark of defense to the nation. But they started wrong; they made unconstitutional

The great difficulty is that, if the South is restored to her position in the Union under the Constitution, the Republican party goes by the board, and they are willing to destroy their country before their party. See how clear the difficulties are when you depart from the strict letter of the Constitution. MAYSVILLE WEEKLY BULLETIN.

The proprietors of the Maysville Bulletin have adopted this method of communicating with their distant friends, as a means by which to draw the affairs of the paper more directly to their attention. It is presumed that every Democrat to whom the Bulletin has been a faithful visitant, will not only take an interest, but a pleasure in advancing its prosperity. The Democracy of Kentucky are noted for the liberal patronage which they have, in times past, extended to the various organs and instruments of the party. Five years ago, when our political prestige was greater than that of any other organization in the country, there were at least twenty plain, old fashioned Democratic papers in the State, and all drawing a good sustenance from the party. To-day, in all the circle of our Kentucky exchanges, we are unable to point out a single, stright-forward Democratic advocate, and, except the Bulletin, we are not aware that there is any such paper in the State. In view of this fact, our own interest, as well as that of the party, has prompted this effort to extend the influence of the paper from one end of the State to the other. Our first and greatest desire is to keep up the old party organization in its purity, avoiding all extraneous influences or coalitions whatever. The entire South will be united under the standard of Democracy. No other party can exist there at present, and we trust never hereafter; so we deem it of the Very first importance to unite and prepare the the Democracy of the South, and by our strong and vigorous action show to our kindred on both sides that our hearts are in the cause. The prospect for success was never more promising, for, while all other parties are sectional, conceived in passion and born in fury, our organization extends over the entire republic, and the Northern Democration of the Pauletin to every homestead in the State, and the ultimate success of Democracy throughout the country.

To this end, we desire to extend the circulation of the Bulletin to every homestead in the State difficulties since the establishment of our paper, and ride, as it were, through fire and fiame, at present we have no reason to complain of our patronage. Once, when we refused to be gagged, an uncrupulous set of knares, calling themselves a Board of Trade, took the authority to suppress us, but this tyranny only lasted a few months, after which we started again with renewed vigor, and to-day we are free, out-spoken, independent, and prosperous.

We have engaged assistance of the ablest character in our editorial department, and we design making the paper in every respect acceptable and desirable to every Democrat and every farmer in the State. We have already appeared in an entire dress of new type, and our wish is to enlarge the paper by the addition of four columns. To enable us to do this we call upon our friends everywhere to lend us assistance. Let every true Democrat consider himself an authorized agent to obtain subscribers for us 'let him solicit his neighbors, his relatives, and his friends, to come forward to our support. We promise to give more than value received for every dollar sent to us.

We hape every subscriber now on our list will fee.

dollar sent to us.

We hope every subscriber now on our list will feet it his duty, as well as his pleasure, to send us at once one or more advance paying subscribers; and all those who knew themselves to be in arrears will favor us, and advance the cause, by an immediate remittance. Our terms are only Two Dollars per annum, invariably in advance.
